M.S. in Education: School Psychologist

Advanced Certificate: School Psychologist

Advanced Certificate: Bilingual School Psychologist

Revised: June 2007

What is the philosophy of the School Psychologist Graduate Program?

The School Psychologist Graduate Program consists of a rigorous 60-credit curriculum in theory, research, and evidence-based practice. Extensive field experiences complement course work. With a strong background in measurement, psychological theory, and databased decision-making, as well as knowledge of effective instructional techniques and psychological interventions, candidates in collaboration with families and school staff are prepared to provide a range of services that positively influence the educational achievement, development, and mental health of all children and youth.

The School Psychologist Graduate Program, offered through the Brooklyn College School of Education, is registered with the New York State Department of Education. The School of Education has earned full NCATE accreditation. The Middle States Association of Colleges and Schools and the Association of American Universities accredit the College. The School Psychologist Graduate Program also adheres to the training standards established by National Association of School Psychologist (NASP) and is fully NASP approved.

The Program adopts the conceptual framework of the School of Education, and stresses the four central themes of collaboration, critical self-reflection and reflective practice, social justice, and diversity in coursework and field experiences.

Collaboration

The School of Education is committed to education as a collaborative process that requires sustained dialogue between relevant parties at all levels of our future practitioners' academic and professional lives. Our graduates should not only have a desire for collaboration, but should also strive to develop collaborative learning communities within their schools that are socially just, and intellectually and aesthetically rich.

Critical Self-Reflection and Reflective Practice

The School of Education is committed to fostering critical self-reflection and reflective practice. We believe a professional must reflect upon his or her own practice, rethinking it in terms of its intentions and its outcomes.

Social Justice

The School of Education is committed to education centered on social justice, preparing future professionals to assume active roles in shaping the social, cultural, and political future of their communities and beyond, crossing physical, cultural, and economic borders as they develop shared meanings and purposes.

Diversity

The School of Education is committed to addressing issues of race, ethnicity, class, cultural and linguistic diversity, religion, gender, sexuality, and special needs, as well as to accommodating learner differences and styles.

Program Goals

The School Psychologist Graduate Program's training goals are consistent with practice and ethical guidelines of the National Association of School Psychologists and the American Psychological Association. Through a program of training and extensive field experiences the following competencies are developed.

1. Proficiency in psycho-educational assessment related to school difficulties and learning disorders with the ability to translate these results into appropriate models of service delivery.
2. Proficiency in psychological assessment related to behavior, personality and mental disorders with the ability to translate these results into appropriate models of service delivery.
3. Proficiency in implementation of prevention strategies, and direct and indirect intervention approaches to serve all candidates' needs, particularly those with disabilities and the ability to evaluate the results of service outcomes.
4. Ability to engage in collaborative practice and implement a range of contextually appropriate consultative services.
5. Familiarity with the organization of schools, including general and special education, and developmentally appropriate curriculum approaches for children with diverse educational needs.
6. An understanding of research methodologies and the ability to implement applied research in complex urban school environments.
7. A capacity for critical self-reflection to gain insight on self and others for the purpose of evaluating and improving service delivery, and nurture a strong commitment to ethical guidelines of professional practice.
8. An understanding of the full range of diversity in the human condition, including, racial, cultural, ethnic, linguistic, socioeconomic, gender, sexual orientation, individual differences/disabilities, and a willingness and capability to work with all populations.
9. A commitment to promote school policies and ethical practices that advance social justice and expand opportunities for all children.
10. A capacity to use technology to develop and enhance school psychology practice.

How do I apply?

1. It is necessary to submit two separate applications for admission to M.S. in Ed.

The Program application must be submitted by mail, fax, or in person to our program office (1205 James Hall). The School Psychology application should be obtained online at <http://depthome.brooklyn.cuny.edu/schooled/PsychProgApp-08-07.pdf>

Mail or fax:
School of Education
School Psychologist Graduate Program
2900 Bedford Ave., 1205 James Hall
Brooklyn, New York 11210
Fax: (718) 951-4232

2. File a separate college graduate school application at <http://applytograd.brooklyn.cuny.edu>. The Office of Admissions will keep you abreast of the status of your application via postings through the online system.

Should you have application questions, you may visit the Admissions Information Center in Room 1103 James Hall, or by calling 718/951-5001.

Are GRE's required?

GRE scores are not required; however, candidates may submit scores for consideration as part of the application process.

Is there a deadline for filing application?

Yes, the deadline for submission of both completed applications and supporting materials is March 1.

After I submit the two applications, what will happen?

The admission process has two levels. The first level of screening examines the paper application which includes; The School Psychologist Program application, official transcripts, two letters of recommendation, a personal statement, and a resume. The second level of screening applies only to candidates who have submitted a complete and acceptable written application. Applicants who meet minimum requirements are invited for an interview and are required to write an essay at the interview.

What are the requirements?

Applicants for admission will be required to meet the general admission requirements of the Division of Graduate Studies and the specific matriculation requirements under the School of Education for the Master of Science Degree in Education and the Advanced Certificate. The Program's prerequisite requirements are:

1. Applicants must have completed a program of undergraduate work including:

Psychology Prerequisites

Experimental Psychology or Research Methods in Psychology

Statistics in Psychology
(all students must complete before entering program)

Educational Psychology or Developmental Psychology

Education Course in Reading Instruction or Literacy
(full-time students must complete before entering program)

Brooklyn College Equivalents

Psy. 57

Psy. 40.1

Ed. 34 or Psy. 20

Ed. 37 or Ed 40

College regulations require both full and part-time candidates to complete outstanding prerequisites within one year after beginning the program. However, all candidates must complete Statistics before entering the program and all full-time candidates must complete the education course in Reading Instruction or Literacy before beginning their first semester. Candidates with outstanding prerequisites after their first year of study cannot register for the second year.

When taking prerequisite courses at another college, do so as a non-degree candidate. Upon completion of the course(s), bring a transcript or grade report as proof of completion to the clinical assistant. Do not ask the college to transfer the grade to us.

2. The Brooklyn College, Graduate Division requires candidates for matriculation to hold a baccalaureate degree from an accredited institution and have completed an approved undergraduate program of study with an overall undergraduate grade point average of at least 3.0. Evidence: official transcript.
3. Applicants must present evidence of their commitment and potential for developing effective relationships with children, youth, and adults from diverse backgrounds and abilities. Evidence: personal statement, letters of recommendation, resume, writing sample, interview.
4. Applicants for the bilingual specialization must, in addition to the above, present fluency in the second language and pass New York State tests.

The process at a glance

What is assessed?	Assessment Tools
1. Undergraduate GPA Graduate Work and GPA (if applicable)	1. Transcripts Transcript/Syllabi
2. Prerequisite courses	2. Transcripts
3. Experience	3. Resume
4. Motivation, writing skills	4. Personal Statement
5. Motivation, Professional Work Characteristics	5. Interview
6. Writing skill, Professional Work Characteristics	6. On-site writing sample

Should I apply to the Bilingual Program?

1. Candidates with bilingual proficiency can complete a School Psychologist Bilingual/Multicultural Specialization, leading to a certificate with a bilingual extension. The School Psychologist Bilingual/Multicultural Specialization requires 63 credits, the 60-credit school psychologist sequence and an additional courses (3 credits) emphasizing bilingual and multicultural issues. Candidates are also required to do their practicum and internship in bilingual/multicultural sites and be supervised by bilingual supervisors. Candidates in the Bilingual/ Multicultural Specialization will need to demonstrate proficiency in both English and a second language by passing New York State tests.

2. The following additional requirements apply to candidates completing the Bilingual Specialization. Bilingual candidates are expected to work in both English and their target language. Candidates are required to spend 1,200 hours in a school or agency performing work related to school psychology. At least 600 of these hours must be completed in an approved bilingual/multicultural setting. At least 600 hours must be completed in a school setting. This is a minimum requirement, and candidates are encouraged to log as many additional internship hours as may be feasible. Field-based supervisors of bilingual interns must be fluent in the same target language as the intern, employed by the agency in which they supervise the intern, and possess a bilingual extension and permanent state certification as a school psychologist.

3. Bilingual candidates must pass the New York State Bilingual Education Assessment (BEA) administered by the New York State Education Department. The BEA is required of candidates seeking a bilingual extension to a certificate.

4. The New York State Education Department (NYSED) requires that individuals who are not U.S. citizens file a Declaration of Intent with Immigration and Naturalization Services in order to be eligible for provisional certification. However, U.S. citizenship is typically required for permanent certification. It is the candidate's responsibility to contact the NYSED for current requirements for certification regarding U.S. citizenship.

Can I get transfer credit?

In order to use courses for transfer credit, courses must be less than five-years old, completed with a grade of B or higher, and may not have been applied toward a degree earned previously. A maximum of six credits may be accepted as transfer credit for courses for which there are no direct equivalents at Brooklyn College.

Candidates may receive transfer credit for up to 12 credits in graduate courses completed at other accredited graduate institutions if approved by the department and taken within the specified time limit. The course(s) must be equivalent to the course offered by the School Psychologist Graduate Program and evaluated by the professor who typically teaches the course. To obtain transfer credit, submit syllabus, catalog description, and transcript to the clinical assistant.

Candidates applying for transfer credit must review the request with the clinical assistant who will supply the application.

If I am accepted what do I need to consider?

1. Program classes are scheduled Monday through Thursday, any time from 3:00-10:00 P.M. in order to accommodate candidates who work during the morning and early afternoon hours. Although schedules rarely require a candidate to be on campus four days a week, candidates need to devote significant time to class assignments. Please consider this in planning work schedules and other commitments.

2. Practicum in School Psychology I and II (Ed. 704.1 and 704.2) are both required two-credit courses in which candidates spend at least 100 hours per semester in the field and attend a weekly seminar at the college. Candidates assigned to schools and agencies for fieldwork have an opportunity to work in these settings under the supervision of permanently certified school psychologists. Practicum is a beginning pre-professional, performance-based experience in which candidates are expected to provide only those services for which they have received specific training. In addition to a minimum of one hour of supervision provided by the appropriately credentialed fieldwork supervisor, the Program will provide weekly supervision in the form of a group seminar.

3. The internship in school psychology is the culminating experience that requires candidates to apply and integrate, under conditions of appropriate supervision, the full range of school psychology knowledge and competencies acquired in their extensive course work in prevention, assessment, intervention, and research. The New York State Education Department requires the school psychology internship for certification as a school psychologist, and the National Association of School Psychologists requires the school psychology internship for National Certification in School Psychology (NCSP). Candidates assigned to schools and agencies for internships in school psychology have an opportunity to work in appropriate settings under the supervision of permanently certified school psychologists. The internship experience occurs on a full-time basis over a period of one academic year, or over a period of two consecutive academic years on a half-time basis. Candidates are required to complete at least 1,200 hours over the course of their internship in the schools. At least, 600 hours must be completed in an approved school setting in which the primary goal is the education of preschool through 12th grade candidates of diverse backgrounds, characteristics, abilities, disabilities, and needs. Although we encourage candidates to complete their entire internship in a school setting, the remaining 600 hours can be completed in an agency performing work relevant to school psychology. Twelve hundred hours is a minimum requirement, and candidates are encouraged to log as many additional internship hours as may be feasible. Candidates should be aware that 1,200 hours over 10 months is the equivalent of a full-time job. The time demands of internship make it impossible for candidates to maintain full-time employment in another field.

The program has a long history of solid relationships with many schools and agencies in New York City and the larger metropolitan area, including Long Island, Westchester, and New Jersey. Candidates are responsible for finding their own field sites. However, online files containing descriptions of site activities and intern reactions to sites are available to assist candidates in finding an appropriate internship site. Candidates are free to find sites not previously used by Program candidates, as long as the site meets the Criteria for School Psychology Internship Placements. See Internship Manual for details regarding fieldwork requirements.

5. Admission to the three-year program precludes full-time employment.

Typical Program for Degree and Certificate: Three Year
